THE ROSEMOND REPORT

Dear Parents,

I had the pleasure of experiencing our theatrical talents here this weekend! Wow! Moana Jr. didn't disappoint. The cast and crew did a fabulous job! I'm sure many of you saw these productions too and would agree. Thanks so much to all of our parents who helped make this happen for these children and their audiences!

There are certainly some interesting outfits being worn today for 2/22/22. It is a special day and one for the ages. I'm sure you'll see some pictures online and we are covering this in our taping of the news team report as well.

This Friday (2/25) marks the end of our Second Trimester. Quickly check with your child to see if there's any missing work that needs to come in to be graded. I'm sure there will be some final tests and projects due at this time too. Report cards will go home next week on Friday (3/4).

Our calendar has been approved for next year. I hope having it early helps with your planning. I know many companies require their employees to submit requests for time off far in advance. We will be sending it to you via One Call tomorrow. Check your email, please.

Yours in Christ,

Marianne Rosemond
