THE ROSEMOND REPORT

Dear Parents,

I reminded our teachers ahead that this is the night for any St. Nicholas treats to appear, so I thought I'd pass on the word to you too! I'm sure he'll visit here at school because we've all been very good!

We will be attending two masses this week. Thursday (12/8) is the feast of the Immaculate Conception, a Holy Day, and we will still be going to mass on Friday (12/9) as usual.

Santa's Shop begins this Friday (12/9) and there's a second shopping day on Monday (12/12) this year too. All classes will have a scheduled time to shop. No peeking! Friday (12/9) is also the day to wear U.C. or X.U. colors or clothing!

We will have a rehearsal of our Christmas Concert on Monday (12/12) in the afternoon for all grades to see. I know some grandparents wish to attend then as well. Grades K-4 will perform their actual concert for all on Monday evening at 7:00p.m. Students and families are asked to arrive that evening by 6:30p.m.

I know that this is quite a hectic time of year, but I hope you'll stop now and then, and enjoy some things through the eyes of your children. It becomes magical!

Yours in Christ,

Marianne Rosemond

◆ THANKSGIVING DAY BOXES

I want to thank all of you for your generosity in providing all the items for the Thanksgiving Boxes for Reviv families. When we were able to offer these boxes to families, the gift of joy and relief and normalcy you gave them was unmatched. Daisy Troop 4556, I am so grateful to you for organizing this endeavor and for every thoughtful detail that went into making these boxes so special. We are truly blessed to be a part of such a supportive and generous community.
