THE ROSEMOND REPORT

Dear Parents,

Happy Catholic Schools Week! I have celebrated this as a teacher and principal for quite some time! I realized this morning that I have been playing bingo with student groups as a principal every year for the past 25 years! Well, this 26th year was still lots of fun too! We are privileged to be in a wonderful supportive community, as yesterday's Open House crowd helped to prove. Your children's teachers and I are glad to do what we do and especially glad for your many smiles and support! Thank you!

There are many fun activities planned for the children this week. There's also a day set aside for our teachers. Thanks to any who could sign-up to help cover recess and lunch duties. A "free" lunch period with teaching partners is a real treat for them.

Our Student Council Board, some parents, and I will travel to the Cathedral Basilica of St. Peter in Chains tomorrow to represent all of us at our citywide Catholic Schools mass. Our own liturgy to celebrate St. Antoninus Catholic School will be celebrated here on Friday at our regular mass.

Our classes are almost full for next year and most of our present students will be returning. This is in large part due to all of us sharing the good news of our school with others. Please continue to do so, and I know we will continue to thrive well into the future. As the theme of the week declares, we are united in faith and community.

Yours in Christ,

Marianne Rosemond
